Wills Clinic

The AABA held its annual Wills Clinic in collaboration with Houston Volunteer Lawyers and VN Teamwork on June 24, 2017. The clinic benefitted underprivileged members of the Asian American community in Houston, and volunteer attorneys prepared wills, powers of attorney, and other estate planning documents for 29 clients. Will execution ceremonies were conducted at VN Teamwork's offices on the morning of June 24. Through the collaborative effort of numerous volunteer attorneys, interpreters, and witnesses, documents for all clients were legally executed. Thank you to all who donated their time to this effort, and to VP of Community Relations Nickie Tran for organizing the event.

Mock Interview Workshop

On June 23, participants of the AABA's mentorship program and other law students from Houston area law schools participated in a round table discussion about strategies and tips for law firm interviews. Phil Lau of Locke Lord LLP and Alison Chen of Akin Gump LLP led the discussion, which was held at the University of Houston Law Center. Law students were able to apply their learnings from the workshop to use almost immediately, as preparation for on-campus interviews began in July. Many thanks to the AABA's Law School and Mentorship Relations Committee for making this event happen.

Job Postings from Congressional Research Service (CRS)

Legislative Attorney (Privacy, Cybersecurity, and Data Protection Law)

Open: 6/22/2017 – 7/20/2017

Salary Range: $94,796.00 to $123,234.00 / Per Year

The Congressional Research Service (CRS), American Law Division (ALD), seeks a Legislative Attorney to analyze legal questions that emerge from the work of Congress related to privacy, cybersecurity, and data protection law in particular and American public law generally. This is a non-litigating position emphasizing qualifications and interest in legal research and writing in a public service legislative context. Candidates with research experience in and broad general knowledge of legal issues regarding privacy, cybersecurity, and data protection in particular and American public law in general; who demonstrate strong research, writing, and oral communication skills; and who possess a portfolio of high quality legal analytical writing are encouraged to apply. Experience as a judicial clerk would be beneficial.

The position's primary focus is the broad area of privacy, cybersecurity, and data protection law. However, given ALD's relatively small staff and the breadth of issues ALD covers for Congress, candidates must also be capable of working in a number of different areas of the law and have the intellectual curiosity to seek out and maintain a broad portfolio of legal issues. Thus, applicants should also have knowledge of administrative law and constitutional law.

The Legislative Attorney prepares objective, non-partisan analytical studies and descriptive and background memoranda and reports on legal issues of national significance; provides personal consultation and assistance to congressional committees, Members, and staff on legal issues throughout the legislative process; and participates in or leads team research projects and seminars. The Attorney is expected to develop over time the skills necessary to provide legal analysis and consultation to congressional committees, Members, and staff at increasingly sophisticated levels.

CRS works exclusively for the United States Congress, providing policy and legal analysis to committees and Members of both the House and Senate, regardless of party affiliation. As a legislative branch agency within the Library of Congress, CRS has been a valued and respected resource on Capitol Hill for more than a century.

CRS is well known for analysis that is authoritative, confidential, objective, and nonpartisan. Its highest priority is to ensure that Congress has immediate access to the nation's best thinking on legal and public policy issues of interest to its Members and Committees.

CRS is fully committed to workforce diversity. Interested applicants must apply online at <http://www.loc.gov/crsinfo>.
